Horkney Court Report

SUBMITTED BY BRITA MAIRI SVENSDOTTIR

Being the Court of Baron Gwillim Kynith and Baroness Melisaunde de Vianne held on August 24, 2024 in the Barony of Endewearde at The Great Endewardian Horkney.

Their Excellencies welcomes all and thanked them for coming. They stated that they had not known what to expect, but that they were well pleased with how great the event was.

They then called forth Alys Treeby to award her the Keystone of Endewearde, the baronial service award.

Saruca bint Lazari was given a package of Canadian mints.

Thorbjorn Thorfinnson was called in and thanked for his term as baronial armored champion.

Jaden Tenax was announced as the new champion and accepted the regalia.

Lady Katherine and Tatina, event stewards, were called in and thanked their staff. They presented Their Excellencies with a telescope.

They then announced that all volunteers had been given tickets to a raffle for every hour they worked and that Katherine Campbell was the winner of a deer skull which had been found on the property.

Tokens had been given out to people to give to those who impressed them in some way. Antony Martin of Sheffield was announced as having gotten the most tokens (5) Nathan Hartman, A&S coordinator, was invited into court to announce the winner of the A&S competition which was a populace choice. Frejya Just Frejya was the winner with her embroidery which she had only been doing for about a month. She received one of Nathan's handmade knives.

Baron Gwillim announced the winners of his fire and food competition, where a team of two had to start a fire with flint and stel and then make a dish with provided ingredients. The winners were Kirsa Oyutai and Emma of Lyndhaven. Emma received fire irons crafted by Seamus na Coille Aosda and Kirsa received a cookbook given to the barony by Aithne Macdonald.

Their Excellencies asked for newcomers for whom this was their first event to come forward. They were greeted warmly and promised the traditional cups.

Godric of Hamton reminded people of the upcoming Hunt site cleanup days.

Their Excellencies once again thanked the populace for coming and hoped that this event would be a recurring one in Endewearde.

Award(s):

Alys Treeby was awarded the Keystone of Endewearde and presented with a medallion by the Endewardian Largesse Makers.

A Seasonal Poem Selection

*On an autumn night
Even with a robe and chilly blanket both
Piled on,
The moon's light
Spreading, is entirely matchless.*
